Question - 1

Write a program using if else and elif (when required) that takes input the temperature of a student as a float prints.

Question - 2

Write a program that counts the number of odd and evens from a given list and you may create your own list.

Question - 3

Is there a solution for Tuples immutability- What if i want to change data (replace 5 with 15) of this tuple.

Question - 4

Write a python program to create a dictionary where the keys are 1 to 5 (key = 1,2,3,4,5) and the respective value for each key is value = key^2

Question - 5

Write a program that :

- Creates int , str, double and float variables
- Takes float 3 values as input for height, width and depth, calculates and prints the area i.e height*width*depth